

Editorial policy

1. TD is an international transdisciplinary journal for research in all fields of scientific endeavour. It is published and edited in the Vaal Triangle Faculty of North-West University in South Africa.
2. Contributions may be in the natural sciences or the humanities. Articles, in which transdisciplinary collaboration between natural and the social or human sciences are explored, are most welcome.
3. The term transdisciplinarity is meant to imply the integrated use of conventional scientific theory and methodology in an effort to explore quantum frontiers of new knowledge in all spheres of scientific endeavour.
4. Regionally editorial content can be based on empirical research in Southern Africa.
5. Authors can make individual contributions or submit work, done in teams.
6. TD is a peer reviewed journal. Contributions of authors will be subject to review by two or more reviewers in disciplines used in the research and writing of an article.

9. Abstracts: Contributions must be accompanied by an abstract of not more than 250 words in the language in which the article is written. Should the text not be in English, an abstract in English (250 words), as well as an executive summary of the article content (about 1 500 word) should accompany the article.
10. Titles of articles: The titles of articles should preferably not exceed 20 words.
11. Names of authors: The names of authors and their institutional affiliation must accompany all contributions. Authors also have to enclose their telephone and fax numbers, email addresses and postal addresses.
12. References must also be clear, lucid and comprehensible for a general academic audience of readers. The Harvard and APA reference styles are acceptable. The conventional footnote system of references may also be used.

13. Illustrations: Editorial material, with illustrations, photographs, tables and graphs is welcome. The illustrations should however be of a high-density quality. Should the files be large, they have to be posted in separate emails and appropriately numbered in sequence.
