

Library and Information Service

COVID-19 PROTOCOL

2021-01-19

1 Background

As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, we hereby communicate the following procedures to students and staff relating to the gradual responsible reopening of the NWU Library and Information Service.

Gradual and responsible re-opening of NWU libraries

The following measures will apply to all our libraries across campuses. We wish to advise that the physical libraries will only be open from 08:00 – 17:00 until further notice. However, the virtual library available at <https://library.nwu.ac.za/> will be accessible all the time.

2 LIS environment measures

The following measures will apply to all our libraries across the campuses. Due to the nature of library spaces, restrictive measures are necessary, as safety of users and staff is a top priority. Our goal is to lower the numbers and proximity of people in the libraries in order to reduce the likelihood of transmission.

2.1 Responsible use of physical spaces

Users are encouraged to use the library facilities responsibly.

- Only a limited number of users will be allowed to use specific areas in the library at any one time.
- Use hand sanitizers as provided when entering our spaces.
- No entrance will be allowed without a face mask.
- Maintain a 2m distance between people.
- Wash hands regularly.
- Protective screens have been installed at all service counters.
- All collaborative rooms will be closed to minimize contact.
- To prevent situations where users may gather, the lounge areas will not be accessible.
- Doors will be open with door stoppers where possible to avoid touching of handles.
- Only every second chair in study areas will be available to maintain distance.
- With regards to Computer rooms/Learning and Research Commons, the following shall apply:
  - Hand sanitising will be compulsory when entering the computer facility.
  - The number of users will be monitored in order to ensure equity of access.
  - To adhere to social distancing protocol, only every second computer will be activated.

2.2 Return or issue of books

- Use the self-check machine where possible to issue your books.
- Card scanners will be on the counter for users to scan their cards. This will assist staff to check out books on your behalf.
- The surface of the Circulations desk will be wiped after each transaction.
- Loan periods have been extended automatically and will be reviewed from time to time. At this stage, there is therefore no pressure for users to visit libraries physically. Should you prefer to return your books, please make use of the drop boxes outside the libraries.

2.2.1 Sanitising of material

- Returned books will be quarantined for 3 days before shelving.
- Reserve and Study Collection books will be kept separate and wiped with a damp (not wet) sanitising cloth.

2.2.2 Curbside pickup service

Curbside pickup is a library service that aims at reaching out to NWU staff and students by making library resources (up to three items) available to patrons who are not eligible to access the university campuses due to lockdown restrictions. There are separate Curbside material request forms for each campus library. After completion, please wait for the confirmation from the library that the requested material is ready. A time slot will be provided to confirm the time, date and place of pickup. For more information and instructions, please visit <http://library.nwu.ac.za/curbside-pickup>

2.3 Online support

- Use our WhatsApp number: 066 028 7119 or ASK US to chat with us about your library service needs. You can also make use of LibAnswers available at: <https://nwu.libanswers.com/>
- Contact a Faculty or Branch Librarian for any information support: <http://library.nwu.ac.za/information-services-and-faculty-librarians>
- Alternatively, make use of our social media accounts available at: <https://library.nwu.ac.za> in order to communicate with staff about library support.

2.4 Seating space in main and faculty libraries across campuses

The following number of users will be allowed in the different library spaces. Coloured clothes pegs will be available at the entrance of the library and will be used according to the space to be utilised. Staff will regulate the number of users in these areas.
